Research projects

- Since 2001 I have been involved in the ongoing joint excavation project of the UNO and the Boston University at Mersa/Wadi Gawasis (Egypt, Red Sea) as person in charge to study ship timbers and maritime equipment with dr. Cheryl Ward, from 2006 to 2008, as field director in 2007-08.

- From 2008 to 2011 I conducted fieldwork research in Saudi Arabia, Yemen, Qatar, Eritrea and Djibouti with Professor Dionisius Agius (Principal Investigator) and Dr. John Cooper, focusing on the study of ancient and traditional boatbuilding techniques.

- From 2011 to 2015 I conducted archaeological research at the ancient port of Adulis (Eritrea) under the direction of the Eritrean museum authority and the CeRDO.

- In 2015 I collaborated for 6 months with the Superintendence for Archaeological Heritage of Naples and the Centre Camille Jullian as a specialist in the study of ancient Roman boats from the excavation of a metro station in Naples.

- In 2015 I started a project of studying the collection of traditional boat models from the Red Sea in the Museo Preistorico Etnografico L. Pigorini, Rome.
- From September 2015 I co-direct a joint project of underwater survey of the SCTH and the University "L'Orientale" between Yanbu and UmmLajj (Red Sea, Saudi Arabia).
- From December 2016 I co-direct a joint ethnographic and ethnoarchaeological project on traditional Nilotic boats and people, with John Cooper, Exeter University.
- From 2018 to today I coordinate the Indonesian Endangered Boatbuilding Heritage Project.
- From 2020 to today I direct a project of underwater survey in the Gulf of Napoli.
- From September 2020 I coordinate the PRIN project titled: The Architecture of the Adrian Emperor (117-138 AD)
